DOW FINANCIAL AGENCY CREDITED WITH REPORT CIRCULATED ON FRIDAY

Agency Says Bert M. Jewell, Head of the Striking Shopmen, Conferred With Pres. Warfield, of the Seaboard Air Line and Senator Cummins

Daugherty Injunction Against Striking Shopmen Sets in Motion a Great Legal Battle, Political Fight and Other Developments

By United Press

New York, Sept. 8.—Bert M. Jewell, head of the striking shopmen, after conferring with railroad executives has agreed to a plan for a settlement of the rail strike on eight or ten roads, according to the Dow Jones Financial agency today.

The agency says Jewell conferred with President Warfield of the Seaboard Air Line and with Senator Cummins.

An Impress on Legal and Political History

Washington, Sept. 8.—The Daugherty injunction against the striking railroad shopmen has set in motion developments which in the opinion of observers here will have marked effect on legal and political history within the next few months.

These developments include:

1. A great legal battle more intense than any similar court fight that has preceded it to determine how far the government can go in controlling by injunction the conduct of labor unions or any other group of citizens.

2. A political fight aimed directly at some republican candidates for congress who have either openly approved the administration strike policy, or have merely failed to disapprove it.

3. An effort to "liberalize" the United States court "by obtaining appointment to impending vacancies of men regarded as progressives or liberals.

Would Impeach Daugherty

New York, Sept. 8—The Central Trades and Labor council adopted resolutions prepared by its executive committee advocating the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty for the shop crafts injunction; government ownership of the railroads and collection of one day's pay from members of all unions affiliated with the council for the aid of striking railroad shopmen.

The organization claims to represent 800,000 union workers in the metropolitan district.

N. P. Train Wreck

Spokane, Sept. 8—Four railroad men were killed and five injured when the Northern Pacific's fast Mississippi Valley Limited train No. 41, crashed into a work train at Parkwater, four miles from Spokane.

Strike Injunction Attacked

Washington, Sept. 8—Legality of the order obtained by the government from Federal District Judge Wilkerson at Chicago, restraining the striking railway shop crafts and the railroad brotherhoods from interfering with transportation in prosecution of the shopmen's strike, was assailed in a suit filed in the supreme court of District of Columbia by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, one of the organizations on strike. The question of jurisdiction of the Chicago court was also raised by the petition which denied that the plaintiffs had been guilty of any illegal act "before or since" July 1.

The electrical workers asked a permanent injunction to prevent United States Attorney Gordon and United States Marshal Snyder from enforcing locally the provisions of the Chicago order. Within two hours after the filing of the suit—which was set for hearing next Saturday—Mr. Snyder had served formal notice of the Chicago injunction on J. P. Noonan, president of the electrical workers, on most of the other local leaders named as defendants before Judge Wilkerson and was instituting a search for William H. Johnston, head of the machinists' association who was said to have "disappeared" again after visiting his office.

The machinists' leader, according to some of his associates, however, had left for Chicago before Marshal Snyder started out with the official copies of the restraining order.

While the electrical workers' petition was said to have been filed solely on their own behalf and without reference to the other six unions on strike. Mr. Noonan said they expected both the temporary order, which they hoped would be issued Saturday, and the permanent writ to have nation-wide scope.

Officials of the department of justice would not comment for publication on the recourse of the strikers to the courts but unofficially they expressed the opinion that if the supreme court of the District of Columbia should grant the temporary restraining order, it would open up wide avenues leading to possible upsetting by courts of other jurisdictions of injunctions and restraining orders granted by the district supreme court, such as those in various packers and other important cases—under the Sherman and Clayton acts.

Wisconsin Labor Belligerent

Milwaukee, Sept. 8—Preparations for starting proceedings against Federal Judge Wilkerson and demanding the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty is the answer of Wisconsin labor to the drastic rail injunction obtained in Chicago.

This course was decided upon at a star chamber conference of the executive board and officials of the Federated Trades Council here last night. Joseph A. Padway, attorney for the State Federation of Labor, is now drawing up the papers to start the plan in motion.

The action followed a resolution adopted by the central labor committee on Wednesday night when it directed its general secretary to prepare resolutions condemning the attorney general and judge for their "aribtrary stand" against organized labor.

Strike Leaders Served With Injunction

Chicago, Sept. 8.—United States deputy marshals today succeeded in serving notice on leaders of the striking railroad shopmen of the issuance of the "Daugherty injunction" in federal court here.

As Bert M. Jewell, William H. Johnston and Martin Ryan, officials directing the strike, stepped from an eastern train, Deputy John Oros served notice of the writ.

Strike leaders, after a week of hiding, returned to Chicago to carry on peace negotiations started with eastern railroad executives. None of the union heads would discuss the prospects of a settlement.

Question of General Strike Considered

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN AND SHOP CRAFT WORKERS CONFER AT THE CHAMBER

Members of the Brainerd Business Mens Association and the executive committee of the Federated Shop Crafts held a get-together meeting Thursday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to discuss strike conditions in this city, and perhaps find some solution for the troubles arising therefrom.

P. T. Brown presided and stated that the meeting was of an informal character in which plans and suggestions could be interchanged and that each one should feel at liberty to express his opinions pro and con on the subject.

A communication was read from J. P. Anderson, superintendent of the Brainerd shops, in which it was stated that the Northern Pacific was ready and willing to negotiate with their men on a settlement, and giving the railroad's side of the strike argument.

A number of the representatives of the shop crafts spoke, giving a history of the labor troubles and telling why a separate peace could not be made with an individual road.

Several plans for settling the strike locally were offered by the business men, but it was shown that such a settlement would be impossible.

The meeting did a great deal of good, in that it gave the business men a clear idea of strike mattres as they stand, and a better understanding of the striking shopmen's troubles. It is hoped that a number of wrong impressions were cleared up at this meeting, both on th peart of the laymen and the strikers.

MRS. W. G. HARDING ILL IN WASHINGTON

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 8—The condition of Mrs. Harding, wife of the president, who has been ill for more than ten days, continued to cause some concern, according to an official bulletin issued at the White House late today.

A navy doctor and two nurses were called this morning and with Brigadier General Sawyer are now in attendance on Mrs. Harding.

MENTAL TESTS FOR AUTOISTS PROPOSED

KILLING BY INSANE DRIVER SPURS MOVE TO PREVENT SIMILAR ACCIDENTS

Minneapolis, Sept. 8—Laws requiring examinations for all automobile drivers are needed, state, county and city officials agreed today, in order to prevent repetition of accidents similar to the one Sept. 1 in which a motorist later found to be insane ran down and killed Otto Kassube of Hamel, Minn., a state fair visitor.

Carl E. Hagen, aged 37, interior decorator, who had figured in numerous accidents, who failed to appear for mental examination Aug. 31 and who ran down Kassube Sept. 1, was committed to the state hospital for the insane at Rochester.

Court Commissioner W. E. Bates signed the order committing Hagen to the hospital.

"There is no possible way, that I know of, to stop an insane man from driving his own car," Secretary of State Mike Holm said.

"Until it is known that he is mentally deranged, there is no way of taking action. This tragedy is simply another indication that the time is coming when every person who drives an automobile must pass an examination.

"It would not be a popular law, but will be necessary."

County Attorney Floyd B. Olson said the accident pointed out the lack of facilities for caring for insane.

"The county jail should have a hospital annex, properly guarded," he said. "Then every man brought in for mental examination, could be detained and given proper care until his condition is determined."

STATE FORESTER APPEARS SATISFIED

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—"An arrangement generally satisfactory at least, has been agreed upon temporarily," W. T. Cox, state forester, said today on his return from Duluth.

Cox, as state forester, clashed with the special forest fire committee appointed by Governor Preus. Cox was reticent to discuss the matter with the committee of seventeen men in Duluth.

BOWEN DENIES DULUTH COAL IS RESOLD IN U. S.

CONG. STEENERSON CHARGES FUEL SHIPPED TO CANADA AND RETURNED

St. Paul, Sept. 8—Reports made public by Congressman Steenerson that coal is being shipped from the Duluth docks to Canada and then offered for resale into the states at unfair prices were discredited by Ivan Bowen, state fuel administrator.

Mr. Bowen declared that he has not heard from Representative Steenerson directly regarding the charges, but that he will investigate them as soon as any official complaint is made to him.

"However, it does not seem reasonable to me that any operator would ship the coal to Canada and then try to sell it to Minnesota consumers for reshipment, standing the expense of high freight rates both ways," Mr. Bowen said.

V. E. Smart, traffic expert of the North Dakota railroad commission, arrived in St. Paul yesterday to represent that state on the northwest central coal committee. Frank Millhollan, chairman of the North Dakota commission, who has been serving on the committee, will return to Bismarck.

HOPE OF RESCUE FADES AT JACKSON

BLASTS BELIEVED SET OFF BY VICTIMS WERE CAUSED BY FIRE

DENSE MASSES OF POISONOUS GASES POURING FROM SHAFT

(By United Press)

At the Argonaut Gold Mine, Jackson, Calif., Sept. 8—Hope of rescue of the 47 miners entombed in the Argonaut gold mine, virtually died today.

Blasts heard by the working crews at first thought to be signals from the victims, were caused by powder left in the mine being exploded by fire which is sweeping through the mine, according to Pete Akers, shaft boss.

Dense masses of poisonous gasses are pouring from the Argonaut shaft mouth. Rescue squads are digging doggedly ahead trying to break into the Argonaut from the adjoining Kennedy mine, but it is feared that when they finally open the chamber where the men are trapped, they will find only corpses.

It will be four days before the underground chamber is penetrated. The miners have been buried since August 27th.

"SUCH DEMAND OF OUR UNIONS WILL NOT BE IGNORED"

—Samuel Gompers

MATTER TO BE PLACED BEFORE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL FEDERATION OF LABOR

TO ACT WITHOUT ANY FEAR OF ATTORNEY GENERAL, SAID MR. GOMPERS

(By United Press.)

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today planned to place the question of a general strike because of the Daugherty injunction before the executive council of the federation.

"The demand of many of our unions for a general strike will not be ignored" said Gompers. "I will place the matter before the council and we will act in accordance with our conscience and not with any fear of the Attorney General."

The council of the federation is to meet here tomorrow and will probably last a week.

Gompers said that the demand of labor for a sympathetic strike is becoming more insistent.

Several unions have adopted resolutions favoring a general strike and hundreds of others are on record favoring a nation-wide walkout, according to Gompers.

The council of the American Federation of Labor is not vested with the power to call a general strike, but leaders who have already gathered here said that in this case leaders of individual unions would accept the recommendations of the council almost as a mandate.

Samuel Gompers, in an interview with the United Press, charged President Harding with breaking faith with the striking shop workers.

According to Gompers Harding promised the rail workers to use the "big stick" demanding the railroads accept the first Hardng proposal for peace which included unimpaired seniority rights for the workers.

President Harding turned the "big stick" into the Daugherty injunction, Gompers said.

NEWSPAPER MEN AT KLAN RITUAL

(By United Press.)

Minneapolis, Sept. 8.—The first ritual of the Ku Klux Klan in the northwest was witnessed by newspaper men from a distance last night.

Members of the Klan in white robes and high peaked head pieces, more than 1,000 in number, went through the spooky rites of the order, initiating 100 candidates. The newspaper men were picked up in a curtained automobile by appointment, and taken to a field on the outskirts where the Klan gathered with the fiery cross, American flag and altar bearing the open bible and unsheathed sword in the center of the group. While the rites were going on, the newspaper men were taken out of hearing and then escorted back to town.

They were warned not to attempt to identify any of the participants or the surroundings. The King Kleagle read the creed of the Klan from the 12th chapter of Romans.

Nogales, Ariz., Sept. 8.—Federal military authorities today were engaged in confiscating all ammunition and arms at pawn shops and stores in Nogales, Sonora.

The action followed discovery of an alleged plot against the Obregon government, and seizure of all arms has been ordered in all parts of the state.

WOMAN TIED TO CHAIR, HOME LOOTED BY PAIR POSING AS U. S. AGENTS

Crosby, Sept. 8—Sheriffs deputies are searching the woods near here for two men who represented themselves to be federal agents and robbed the home of Frank Krawl of Cuyuna, four miles from here of $400 in cash and a like amount in jewelry.

The men forced entrance into the Krawl home and tied Mrs. Krawl to a chair, threatening her with a pistol. The commotion awakened her husband who entered the room and was confronted with pistols, and told to open a trunk, after the men had shown stars which they said were those of government operatives.

Mr. Krawl opened a trunk in which the men said moonshine was concealed. The money and jewelry was taken from the trunk. The sheriff's office was notified but has been unable to locate the men.

3 BANDITS SLUGGED HIM, STOLE DIAMONDS

Chicago, Sept. 8—Adolph Kuntsler New York jeweler, arrived in Chicago yesterday to dispose of a quantity of expensive jewelry for $50,000.

Today he is in the hospital and has neither the jewels nor the $50,000.

After spending the night at a north side hotel, he arose for an early breakfast at a near restaurant before starting out on his business trip among Chicago retail jewelers.

Three armed bandits entered the restaurant, slugged him and departed with the jewels.

EDITOR BELITTLES COX AND HOUSE

STATEMENTS OF PAIR IN EUROPE CALLED "RIDICULOUS" BY PITTSBURGH TOURIST

Paris, Sept. 8—The opinions of James M. Cox and Colonel E. M. House are taken so seriously in Europe that Alexander P. Moore of the Pittsburgh Leader gave the following interview:

"I am afraid an outrage is being perpetrated on the people of Europe by statements given out by alleged American statesmen who come here to bask in the sunshine of publicity.

"As an American I resent our country being placed in a false position, and that is my reason for making a protest. No individual or set of individuals has any right to deal for the United States.

"The people of England and France seem to take seriously the statement of Mr. Cox, who was defeated for the presidency by a larger plurality of votes than it took to elect the president a few years ago. His campaign was exactly the same as his argument today. Our people resented it then and they are more opposed to entangling alliances now. If Americans who come here would speak frankly it would better Europe.

"The United States is opposed to the League of Nations and no better evidence is given than the fact that within a few weeks Mr. Reed, a bitter opponent of the league, a member of the democratic party, was renominated in face of the fact that Mr. Wilson sent out a personnal appeal to the democrats of Missouri to defeat his renomination.

"Another significant feature of our political situation is that the soldiers adjusted compensation bill has passed the senate with a proviso that the money must be paid exclusively from the proceeds of foreign debts. That means that 3,000,000 veterans interested in the bonus question are unwilling to forgive foreign debts.

"The people of Europe seems to place hope in the statements of Col. House and Samuel Untermyer. Personally, Col. House is a nice man, but he has no more influence on the present administration and in the present congress than the A. P. A. has on the Vatican at Rome."

21 YEAR SEARCH OF MOTHER FOR HER SON FINALLY REWARDED

INFANT TAKEN FROM ARMS OF MRS. HARRY INGLE-RENGEL OF ST. CLOUD

FINDS HIM THROUGH AGENCY OF RED CROSS, NOW RICH OIL LAND OWNER

(By United Press)

St. Cloud, Sept. 8—The twenty-one year search of a mother for the boy snatched from her breast by her husband has been rewarded.

Through the Red Cross of Pawnee, Oklahoma, Mrs. Harry Ingle-Rengel has found her son—now owner of oil lands in Oklahoma and wealthy.

Mrs. Ingle and her husband separated in Harrisburg, Pa., when the boy was two years old and the mother only eighteen. One night as she sat in her mother's home in Harrisburg suburbs, two men and a woman entered and caught up the baby as the mother swooned. From that day until recently she never heard of them.

In the meantime, the father brought up the son on a Mexican ranch in ignorance of his mother. Ten years ago he confided in a peon on the ranch, and the peon told the boy. The latter, Frank, then 13, struck out immediately in search of his mother. He worked as a farm hand in Oklahoma, bought land, married and later discovered his property was valuable. Then he went to the Red Cross at Pawnee and told his story. Mrs. Ingle had come west and married A. L. Rengel of St. Cloud. She was ill in a hospital when word came from the Red Cross of her son. She left the hospital, boarded a train immediately and found him, now nearing 24 years of age.

"I am perfectly happy now that I have found my boy," she said. "I have nothing to worry about now."

38 ADDED TO INDICTED LIST IN HERRIN WAR

Marion, Ill., Sept. 8—Lined up in a semi-circle in the circuit court room of the Williamson county court house the special grand jury investigating the Herrin massacres returned 38 more indictments, all for murder. Circuit Judge D. T. Hartwell turned the indictments over to Circuit Clerk L. L. Caplinger, who will prepare the capias for each individual and the arrests will be made by the special deputies some time today or Saturday.

The first indictment accuses six men of the slaying of Howard Hoffman of Huntington, Ind., in the Herrin cemetery. He was one of the six captives who escaped the massacre at the barbed wire fence in the timber. They were recaptured and led back to the cemetery. There they were shot down. One of them lived and the other five died. The men named in this true bill are Peter Hiller, Clarence Rogers, Leva Mein, Percy Hall, Joseph Carneghi and Bert Grace

The second indictment names nine men in connection with the hanging of Robert J. Anderson, Sparta, Mich., at the southern Illinois strip mine. His body was riddled with bullets after he had been hanged. In the indictment there are two counts, one charging the shooting and the other the hanging

The third indictment concerns the slaying of John Shoemaker, son of Mayor Shoemaker of Charleston, Ill. He and 13 others of the nonunion mine employes who had surrendered under a flag of truce were killed at the barbed wire fence in the timber near the power house.

The fourth indictment is for the slaying of John Shoemaker and charges Hubert Walker with committing the slaying. He is the only one named on that indictment.

Chicago, Sept. 8—Adolph Kuntsler New York jeweler, arrived in Chicago yesterday to dispose of a quantity of expensive jewelry for $50,000.

Today he is in the hospital and has neither the jewels nor the $50,000.

After spending the night at a north side hotel, he arose for an early breakfast at a near restaurant before starting out on his business trip among Chicago retail jewelers.

Three armed bandits entered the restaurant, slugged him and departed with the jewels.

EDITOR BELITTLES COX AND HOUSE

STATEMENTS OF PAIR IN EUROPE CALLED "RIDICULOUS" BY PITTSBURGH TOURIST

Paris, Sept. 8—The opinions of James M. Cox and Colonel E. M. House are taken so seriously in Europe that Alexander P. Moore of the Pittsburgh Leader gave the following interview:

"I am afraid an outrage is being perpetrated on the people of Europe by statements given out by alleged American statesmen who come here to bask in the sunshine of publicity.

"As an American I resent our country being placed in a false position, and that is my reason for making a protest. No individual or set of individuals has any right to deal for the United States.

"The people of England and France seem to take seriously the statement of Mr. Cox, who was defeated for the presidency by a larger plurality of votes than it took to elect the president a few years ago. His campaign was exactly the same as his argument today. Our people resented it then and they are more opposed to entangling alliances now. If Americans who come here would speak frankly it would better Europe.

"The United States is opposed to the League of Nations and no better evidence is given than the fact that within a few weeks Mr. Reed, a bitter opponent of the league, a member of the democratic party, was renominated in face of the fact that Mr. Wilson sent out a personnal appeal to the democrats of Missouri to defeat his renomination.

"Another significant feature of our political situation is that the soldiers adjusted compensation bill has passed the senate with a proviso that the money must be paid exclusively from the proceeds of foreign debts. That means that 3,000,000 veterans interested in the bonus question are unwilling to forgive foreign debts.

"The people of Europe seems to place hope in the statements of Col. House and Samuel Untermyer. Personally, Col. House is a nice man, but he has no more influence on the present administration and in the present congress than the A. P. A. has on the Vatican at Rome."

21 YEAR SEARCH OF MOTHER FOR HER SON FINALLY REWARDED

INFANT TAKEN FROM ARMS OF MRS. HARRY INGLE-RENGEL OF ST. CLOUD

FINDS HIM THROUGH AGENCY OF RED CROSS, NOW RICH OIL LAND OWNER

(By United Press)

St. Cloud, Sept. 8—The twenty-one year search of a mother for the boy snatched from her breast by her husband has been rewarded.

Through the Red Cross of Pawnee, Oklahoma, Mrs. Harry Ingle-Rengel has found her son—now owner of oil lands in Oklahoma and wealthy.

Mrs. Ingle and her husband separated in Harrisburg, Pa., when the boy was two years old and the mother only eighteen. One night as she sat in her mother's home in Harrisburg suburbs, two men and a woman entered and caught up the baby as the mother swooned. From that day until recently she never heard of them.

In the meantime, the father brought up the son on a Mexican ranch in ignorance of his mother. Ten years ago he confided in a peon on the ranch, and the peon told the boy. The latter, Frank, then 13, struck out immediately in search of his mother. He worked as a farm hand in Oklahoma, bought land, married and later discovered his property was valuable. Then he went to the Red Cross at Pawnee and told his story. Mrs. Ingle had come west and married A. L. Rengel of St. Cloud. She was ill in a hospital when word came from the Red Cross of her son. She left the hospital, boarded a train immediately and found him, now nearing 24 years of age.

"I am perfectly happy now that I have found my boy," she said. "I have nothing to worry about now."

38 ADDED TO INDICTED LIST IN HERRIN WAR

Marion, Ill., Sept. 8—Lined up in a semi-circle in the circuit court room of the Williamson county court house the special grand jury investigating the Herrin massacres returned 38 more indictments, all for murder. Circuit Judge D. T. Hartwell turned the indictments over to Circuit Clerk L. L. Caplinger, who will prepare the capias for each individual and the arrests will be made by the special deputies some time today or Saturday.

The first indictment accuses six men of the slaying of Howard Hoffman of Huntington, Ind., in the Herrin cemetery. He was one of the six captives who escaped the massacre at the barbed wire fence in the timber. They were recaptured and led back to the cemetery. There they were shot down. One of them lived and the other five died. The men named in this true bill are Peter Hiller, Clarence Rogers, Leva Mein, Percy Hall, Joseph Carneghi and Bert Grace

The second indictment names nine men in connection with the hanging of Robert J. Anderson, Sparta, Mich., at the southern Illinois strip mine. His body was riddled with bullets after he had been hanged. In the indictment there are two counts, one charging the shooting and the other the hanging

The third indictment concerns the slaying of John Shoemaker, son of Mayor Shoemaker of Charleston, Ill. He and 13 others of the nonunion mine employes who had surrendered under a flag of truce were killed at the barbed wire fence in the timber near the power house.

The fourth indictment is for the slaying of John Shoemaker and charges Hubert Walker with committing the slaying. He is the only one named on that indictment.

Power Farming Day

St. Paul, Sept. 8—Power farming day was observed at the Minnesota state fair today.

A mammoth parade with several hundred tractors, drawing full loads was staged on the race track.

Power farming machinery is being emphasized at this year's state fair. All of the leading types of tractors are being shown in numbers. One of the features is the Fordson display, showing the various uses of the tractors in a farm demonstration.

Advice to Flappers

Valley City, N. D., Sept. 8—"Ears were made to hear with. Don't cover them up with silly looking locks of hair."

This was part of the advice handed out to flappers by Mrs. Jennie Sharples, national field secretary of the World's Purity Federation in a lecture here.

She advised girls to beware of the "dance, automobile and cigarette." Clean thought, rather than rouge, gives good complexions, Mrs. Sharples advised.

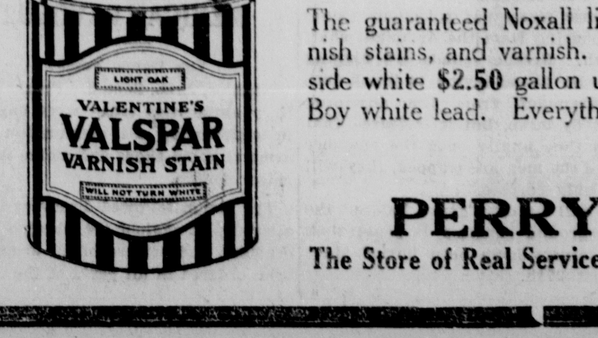

Bee Industry

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 8—The drawback on the bee industry in North Dakota is recognized as the fact that too many people regard honey as a luxury, rather than a necessity, Mark Andrews, Mapleton bee raiser, declares. Andrews increased his hives from ten to forty this fall and expects to obtain more than 4,000 pounds of honey this fall.

This locality is favorable for the bee industry, which although heretofore neglected is destined to become a leading industry in ten years, F. C. Pellett, editor of the American Bee Journal who recently toured the state, declared.

Soil conditions here where sweet clover reaches the heighth of development and climatic conditions with changes between cool nights and warm days causing the maximum nectar flow indicate the possibility of bee raising, Pellett says.

Bees are successfully raised 300 miles north of Winnipeg, he declared.

Power Farming Day

St. Paul, Sept. 8—Power farming day was observed at the Minnesota state fair today.

A mammoth parade with several hundred tractors, drawing full loads was staged on the race track.

Power farming machinery is being emphasized at this year's state fair. All of the leading types of tractors are being shown in numbers. One of the features is the Fordson display, showing the various uses of the tractors in a farm demonstration.

Advice to Flappers

Valley City, N. D., Sept. 8—"Ears were made to hear with. Don't cover them up with silly looking locks of hair."

This was part of the advice handed out to flappers by Mrs. Jennie Sharples, national field secretary of the World's Purity Federation in a lecture here.

She advised girls to beware of the "dance, automobile and cigarette." Clean thought, rather than rouge, gives good complexions, Mrs. Sharples advised.

Bee Industry

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 8—The drawback on the bee industry in North Dakota is recognized as the fact that too many people regard honey as a luxury, rather than a necessity, Mark Andrews, Mapleton bee raiser, declares. Andrews increased his hives from ten to forty this fall and expects to obtain more than 4,000 pounds of honey this fall.

This locality is favorable for the bee industry, which although heretofore neglected is destined to become a leading industry in ten years, F. C. Pellett, editor of the American Bee Journal who recently toured the state, declared.

Soil conditions here where sweet clover reaches the heighth of development and climatic conditions with changes between cool nights and warm days causing the maximum nectar flow indicate the possibility of bee raising, Pellett says.

Bees are successfully raised 300 miles north of Winnipeg, he declared.

CITY SCHOOLS BIG ENROLLMENT

Gives Evidence This Season Of Unmistakable Growth in the Population of Brainerd

HIGH SCHOOL MARKED INCREASE

About 22 New Teachers in Grades and High Employed to Replace Teachers of Last Year

By W. C. COBB
(Superintendent of City Schools)

The city schools opened on Tuesday of this week with practically a complete teaching force of permanent teachers, who we hope, will continue throughout the year.

As was anticipated last spring, the enrollment in the schools indicates an unmistakable growth in the population of the city.

In making a comparison of the school enrollment this year with that of last year, we are comparing figures taken at the close of the first month of school a year ago with enrollment taken the third day of school this year. Only an estimate can be made until the end of the school month, but it is safe to assume that in the seven school buildings of Brainerd a considerable number of pupils will be enrolled during the next sixteen days.

The Lowell school, including the Mill district, have enrolled 455 pupils as compared with 433 for the first month of last year.

The Lincoln school has exactly the same enrollment the third day as at the end of the first month of last year.

The Whittier school 219 last year, 235 this year, an increase of 16, with one additional teacher in the building.

The Harrison school, 318 last year, 325 this year, an increase of seven over a very crowded condition a year ago.

Riverside school, 38 pupils last year as compared with 49 at the present time, with additional pupils to come from the Lincoln as soon as the new rooms are ready.

The grades in the Washington, which were greatly overcrowded last year, particularly the three upper grades, are somewhat less this year and will be able to provide some relief to the Harrison school. The figures being Washington grades 241 last year, 182 this year.

The high school indicates perhaps the most marked increase in enrollment of any of the schools thus far, being 337 last year and 367 this year, which does not include the normal training girls, some 20 in number, of whom only 14 can probably be accomodated.

To summarize the enrollment for the entire city, there are 46 more pupils in the schools at the present time than were enrolld during the first four weeks of school last year, and it would be a very conservative estimate to assume that during the next three weeks this number will be increased to approximately 100.

It is very apparent that the high school department will be packed to the limit to provide class room and seating facilities for its enrollment this year.

About 22 new teachers, including both grades and high school, have been employed to take the places of teachers of last year or of new rooms to be opened this year.

The new teachers in the high school are as follows:

Anna Laipple, Science; Ella Oerting, English; Margaret Spink, Science; Lillian Flitch, History; Mildred Grahn, cooking; Edith Knight, Commercial; Verna Waterman, Normal training.

New grade teachers: Alma Caughey, Lydia Roderick, Sigrid Stendal, Karen Flaata, Marjorie Poppenburg, Marjorie Parker, Mabel Carlson, Viola Varner, Gertrude Ekholm, Mary Wheeler, Pauline Green, Esther Arnestad, Esther Campbell, Ruth Berglund, Vera McKee. All grade teachers are advanced normal graduates and all high school teachers, except in special departments, are college graduates, with special preparation in education.

DR. ECKLES REVISES HIS DAIRY TEXT BOOK

Complete revision of his well known book, "Dairy Cattle and Milk Production," has been undertaken by Dr. C. H. Eckles, chief of the division of dairy husbandry at University Farm. The book has long been recognized as a standard and authoritative work on modern dairy production. The revision will bring it up to date and in accord with new developments.

COUNTY FAIR AT PEQUOT, MINN.

Will Stage Contests Sept. 15 and—16—Another at Pillager County Fair Sept. 22

Ambitious horseshoe pitchers who wish to become county champions will have an opportunity to extend themselves in the next week or two, as there are to be four important tournaments held in the vicinity of Brainerd.

On next Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 12 and 13, there will be a tournament in Fergus Falls and another at Pine River. All pitchers are invited to compete.

On Friday and Saturday, the 15th and 16th, at the county fair in Pequot, will be held the biggest horseshoe pitching contest ever conducted in this part of the state.

Friday's contest will be for the championship of Crow Wing county, Saturday's for the championship of Central Minnesota. Also on this date the Farmers club championship will be played off. Valuable trophies and cash prizes will be awarded in each event.

On the 22nd of September Pillager will put on a good tournament in connection with their county fair and a good purse will be divided in eight prizes.

It will pay barnyard golf enthusiasts to get into good form for these tournaments. Brainerd should be well represented, and there is no reason why our players should not win a goodly share of the prizes.

OLD DOBBIN STEALS MARCH ON TRACTOR

"Tractor manufacturers and horse breeders associations may urge the relative merits of tractors and horses as sources of farm power with all the eloquence of which they are capable," declares G. A. Pond, in charge of the cost accounting section at University Farm, "but the farmer who has both available keeps his eye steadfastly on the relative prices of kerosene and oats and adjusts his power supply accordingly."

Recently summarized data collected on ten Steele county farms showed but 298 hours of use per tractor in 1921 as compared with 415 hours the year previous, a decrease of 28 per cent. The use of horse labor, on the other hand, increased an average of 610 hours per farm during the same period.

"The fact that tractor fuel declined only 29 per cent in price while horse feed decreased 55 per cent partly explains the change," says Mr. Pond.

Passing on the Pavement

An indication of the traffic on the new paved highway may be gleaned from a count made by a local man Monday. This man had driven to St. Cloud in the afternoon and on the return trip counted the cars going south between the towns of Sartell and Rice, a distance of about 12 miles. Sixty-five cars were counted and in that number seven different states were represented. Aside from Minnesota cars there were licenses from Alabama, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and North Dakota. Between Rice and Little Falls 30 more cars were counted.—Little Falls Transcript.

GOLF TOURNAMENT IS TO BE STAGED BY TOWN & COUNTRY CLUB

The Little Falls Town and Country club will hold a local golf tournament beginning Friday morning, September 8, and cosing Monday evening. All scores must be deposited in the score boy on No. 9 green. The scores will be the number of strokes to nine holes with the handicaps given to be deducted from the total score of each player.

The following ground rules must be observed:

Every stroke, whether the ball is touched or not, must be counted.

A ball out of bounds—stroke and distance lost.

A ball lost on fairway-stroke and distance lost.

Ball on fairway must be teed.

Ball in rough must be played as it lies. Do not touch it.

Each and every ball must be holed out in regular manner. Do not lift it.

Low score for men—Prize, a driving iron.

Low scores for ladies—prize, a driver.

HAVELOCK, A SHOP TOWN

Has Its Troubles Attendant to the Railway Strike Just Like Brainerd

Havelock, Nebraska, seems to be having her difficulties with the railway companies. Havelock is a sity of six or seven thousand population, in which is located the Burlington shops, larger and employing more men than our local shops.

The city officials of Havelock, in a letter to the Burlington in answer to a charge that the railroad was not receiving proper police protection on their premises, states as follows. It is addressed to General Manager Thiehoff and is dated Sept. 2nd:

"When called to your premises the police department has always responded. Thus far they have uncovered nothing more serious than a crap game among your guards.

"Continuously, since July 12, your company has thrown bright lights into the faces and homes of Havelock citizens. We are so far determined to abate this intolerable and indefensible nuisance that unless we secure your successful co-operation, or the assistance of a court decree, we shall decline to be responsible for the maintenance of law and order in this community.

"Your threat to remove the shops from Havelock is no longer impressive. Too frequent usage has depleted its original force. In plan language, it is 'Old Stuff,' just 'Old Stuff,' and that is all.

"You know and we know that when you do pull stakes and move elsewhere, you will take with you all your labor troubles, you will employ hundreds of men, you will deals with them in more or less perfect organizations, and you will always try to get out of them the greatest possible service for the least possible return.

"Wherever you go, you will find that exploitation and encroachment are everywhere equally unpopular."

Havelock is the former home of Wm. R. Greenwood, 209 Kingwood street, he at one time working in the shops there. The above letter was printed as an open letter in the papers as well as being sent to the railway company.

--Financial Resources--

THE FINANCIAL RESOURCES OF A COMMUNITY ARE THE BAROMETER OF ITS PROSPERITY.

Add to these resources and you quicken its advancement. Detract and you proportionately obstruct its progress.

This should evidence to all of us our individual responsibility toward our home town and its people. These people are your friends and neighbors. YOUR INTERESTS ARE KINDRED. Thus you should take no personal action in any community matter without taking into consideration just how it will affect all those living here.

You can safely bet, folks, that every Dollar you remove from the commercial and industrial life of Brainerd deprives just that much employment and vocation from someone who needs it. And when you remove employment and vocation, you will remove from our midst those individuals who are dependent upon it for the sustenance of their homes and families. THIS IS AN ABSOLUTE IRREFUTABLE FACT.

You may think we have enlarged upon this matter, folks, when we refer to your INDIVIDUAL ACTS as being so highly important to the welfare of Brainerd. To the contrary it should make plain the paths that are opened to all of us in extending the co-operation we owe this wonderful community.

To begin with when you need Merchandise or Service—BUY IT IN BRAINERD. This simple procedure keeps your money at home, banks it here, pays the obligations of our people and thus finds itself on its way back into the channels of local commerce and trade—and even back into your own pocketbook from whence it came.

Stop and think a moment, friends, of the transactions involved in a procedure of this kind. THINK OF THE EMPLOYMENT MADE POSSIBLE in the handling of these Dollars and the business transactions ensuing as a result of keeping them among ourselves.

In contrast, picture in your minds the result of spending or sending these Dollars away from our city. By so doing you have side-tracked in a single action, a substantial portion of our commercial industry and transferred to some distant community assets that are a DISTINCT LOSS TO BRAINERD AND ITS PEOPLE.

We claim the keeping of our money at home, friends, is the first step in the building of a "real city." And from the standpoint of yourself—should be the easiest. To begin with, MERCHANDISE AND SERVICE IS HERE IN ABUNDANCE. There is not a business man in Brainerd today but who is ready to serve you to your utmost satisfaction both in quantity, quality and price.

BEFORE YOU TURN THIS PAGE we want you to glance through the list appended herewith and realize this is so. And they are only part of the entire number who are ready, not only to serve you, but also our community—Brainerd. Think it over.

"The fact that tractor fuel declined only 29 per cent in price while horse feed decreased 55 per cent partly explains the change," says Mr. Pond.

Passing on the Pavement

An indication of the traffic on the new paved highway may be gleaned from a count made by a local man Monday. This man had driven to St. Cloud in the afternoon and on the return trip counted the cars going south between the towns of Sartell and Rice, a distance of about 12 miles. Sixty-five cars were counted and in that number seven different states were represented. Aside from Minnesota cars there were licenses from Alabama, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and North Dakota. Between Rice and Little Falls 30 more cars were counted.—Little Falls Transcript.

HAVELOCK, A SHOP TOWN

Has Its Troubles Attendant to the Railway Strike Just Like Brainerd

Havelock, Nebraska, seems to be having her difficulties with the railway companies. Havelock is a sity of six or seven thousand population, in which is located the Burlington shops, larger and employing more men than our local shops.

The city officials of Havelock, in a letter to the Burlington in answer to a charge that the railroad was not receiving proper police protection on their premises, states as follows. It is addressed to General Manager Thiehoff and is dated Sept. 2nd:

"When called to your premises the police department has always responded. Thus far they have uncovered nothing more serious than a crap game among your guards.

"Continuously, since July 12, your company has thrown bright lights into the faces and homes of Havelock citizens. We are so far determined to abate this intolerable and indefensible nuisance that unless we secure your successful co-operation, or the assistance of a court decree, we shall decline to be responsible for the maintenance of law and order in this community.

"Your threat to remove the shops from Havelock is no longer impressive. Too frequent usage has depleted its original force. In plan language, it is 'Old Stuff,' just 'Old Stuff,' and that is all.

"You know and we know that when you do pull stakes and move elsewhere, you will take with you all your labor troubles, you will employ hundreds of men, you will deals with them in more or less perfect organizations, and you will always try to get out of them the greatest possible service for the least possible return.

"Wherever you go, you will find that exploitation and encroachmen are everywhere equally unpopular."

Havelock is the former home of Wm. R. Greenwood, 209 Kingwood street, he at one time working in the shops there. The above letter was printed as an open letter in the papers as well as being sent to the railway company.

--Financial Resources--

THE FINANCIAL RESOURCES OF A COMMUNITY ARE THE BAROMETER OF ITS PROSPERITY.

Add to these resources and you quicken its advancement. Detract and you proportionately obstruct its progress.

This should evidence to all of us our individual responsibility toward our home town and its people. These people are your friends and neighbors. YOUR INTERESTS ARE KINDRED. Thus you should take no personal action in any community matter without taking into consideration just how it will affect all those living here.

You can safely bet, folks, that every Dollar you remove from the commercial and industrial life of Brainerd deprives just that much employment and vocation from someone who needs it. And when you remove employment and vocation, you will remove from our midst those individuals who are dependent upon it for the sustenance of their homes and families. THIS IS AN ABSOLUTE IRREFUTABLE FACT.

You may think we have enlarged upon this matter, folks, when we refer to your INDIVIDUAL ACTS as being so highly important to the welfare of Brainerd. To the contrary it should make plain the paths that are opened to all of us in extending the co-operation we owe this wonderful community.

To begin with when you need Merchandise or Service—BUY IT IN BRAINERD. This simple procedure keeps your money at home, banks it here, pays the obligations of our people and thus finds itself on its way back into the channels of local commerce and trade—and even back into your own pocketbook from whence it came.

Stop and think a moment, friends, of the transactions involved in a procedure of this kind. THINK OF THE EMPLOYMENT MADE POSSIBLE in the handling of these Dollars and the business transactions ensuing as a result of keeping them among ourselves.

In contrast, picture in your minds the result of spending or sending these Dollars away from our city. By so doing you have side-tracked in a single action, a substantial portion of our commercial industry and transferred to some distant community assets that are a DISTINCT LOSS TO BRAINERD AND ITS PEOPLE.

We claim the keeping of our money at home, friends, is the first step in the building of a "real city." And from the standpoint of yourself—should be the easiest. To begin with, MERCHANDISE AND SERVICE IS HERE IN ABUNDANCE. There is not a business man in Brainerd today but who is ready to serve you to your utmost satisfaction both in quantity, quality and price.

BEFORE YOU TURN THIS PAGE we want you to glance through the list appended herewith and realize this is so. And they are only part of the entire number who are ready, not only to serve you, but also our community—Brainerd. Think it over.

THE VICE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

THE public utterances of Vice President Calvin Coolidge always invite thought. They give evidence of thorough preparation, and while they carry a very practical message, they are shot through with moral conviction and a confidence in the people which illumines their more prosaic contents.

Speaking to thousands gathered within the State Fair grounds the vice president sketched the history of the development of agriculture and industry in the United States and announced that despite incidental and temporary difficulties "by every standard of comparison we are already in an era of great peacetime prosperity."

He offered a defense of the activities of the administration, and the list of accomplishments he read is most gratifying at a time when conditions are disturbed and the government is bearing the brunt of the blame for the disorder. His appeal for unity, and splendidly consistent effort to prove that the welfare of the country depends upon working together, rang true. The vice president did well to stress the thought that if national unity is maintained, and the interests of the individual seeking his own welfare are made secondary to the welfare of the public, and personal liberty is made secure by seeking the supremacy of public authority, all interests in the country will participate in the general good.

The vice president set forth the purposes of the revenue and tariff bills in a clear manner when he said "But if a tax bill reduces the public burden and re-adjusts it in a way that does not retard but encourages enterprise, and if a tariff bill results in the establishment and maintenance of an era of general prosperity they have promoted and improved the public welfare."

Coming at a time when the government is required to shoulder the responsibility for all the unfortunate happenings in the economic and industrial life of the nation, many of which are the resultants of the universal upheaval following the war, when each faction is blaming the government for its attitude; the railroads for its failure to bring the strike to an end; the strikers for—what they consider—its support of the railroads in the struggle; the farmers for the low prices for products, and sometimes for the weather; the United States Chamber of Commerce for its consideration of a bonus bill, and the ex-soldiers for its not making the bonus bill effective, to cite just a few of the criticisms; the vice president's speech by showing that not in government alone, but in the discharge of individual obligations in a society that recognizes that all of its constituents are the servants of a common cause, rests the nation's hope, helped to array against the "exactions of peace" and "spiritual fervor with which" the country "met a world crisis."

The vice president's speech will help to center attention on the obligations of citizenship which, when admitted and accepted generally, will result in the reference of fewer problems to the government for its solution, and a correspondingly serious attempt of all citizens to work separately and collectively for the public welfare, while the hands of the government are held up by a united and responsible citizenship.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

THE appointments on the police force made by Mayor Little and confirmed by the city council at its last meeting will be satisfactory to the citizens of Brainerd. It is quite right that tried officers should be advanced to places of more importance when their past services have proved that they have been intelligent and attentive in the discharge of the duties of their department. Of course there are always criticisms of public servants, and the police department is one of those branches of the city's government which has duties so broad and varied that it is humanly impossible for its officers to give universal satisfaction. One of the annoyances to which the department is heir is the criticism which breaks out periodically when laws have been violated and the aggressors are not brought to judgment. For such failure to bring the guilty into court the department bears the blame even when its critics fail to submit evidence of the guilt of the parties involved as the ground on which the department may act, and without which it cannot hope to bring the accused into court with any hope of securing a conviction. These forget that a criminal is not found guilty in a court room because of rumors and whisperings of the street or neighborhood but only on the grounds of evidence submitted to the court. In a city of the size of Brainerd the personnel of the department is necessarily limited so that only a part of the districts within its limits may be patrolled, and the limitation of the force prohibits the advantage of having an officer at the desk at all hours. Three officers cannot possibly do the work of ten, and they cannot multiply themselves when an emergency arises.

Captain Eric Graff is well and favorably known and his unassuming manner will not be affected by his elevation to the position of chief of the police force. Oscar M. Risberg, who has efficiently patrolled the streets during those hours when good citizens are asleep, has won his promotion; and Traffic Officer C. H. Abrahamson's claim to an advance is recorded in the Municipal court register which shows the many cases of violation of traffic laws brought into court as a result of his vigilance with a correspondingly large number of convictions from his complaints.

If the re-organized police department is afforded the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Brainerd, who will refrain from blaming the officers for failure to prosecute arising from lack of evidence which oftentimes might be given by citizens who dislike the notoriety arising from an appearance as a witness in Municipal court; and who, casting aside this difference, will submit evidence on which the department may act, there is every assurance that the officers will give the city conscientious and faithful service.

TEN years ago the war of the Greeks and the Turks would have made good copy for the newspapers. But today the fall of 10,000 Greeks doesn't even head the front page. Which shows that for this generation it is not a story but an incident.

MAD, MAD MALES

A FEW REMARKS ON THE SUBJECT OF WOMEN AND DRESS

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for the United Press.)

New York, Sept. 8—Men like to think that women are poor miserable mortals who victimize themselves with cosmetic, kid curlers and uncomfortable clothing. They think us weaklings whose spines must have stays for support, whose high heeled feet are fit only to step from taxi to taxi. The intricacy of our frilly neckwear quite appals them.

Now and then some religious sect headed by a male will haul out an old kimona, fashioned of sacking, and offer it as a solution of the white woman's burden dress. And down in every woman's heart she laughs, knowing that she is the most "as is" human in existence today.

If the average man were to go to business dressed in the same amount of clothing that his stenographer wears he would be arrested for indecent exposure. Exposing his Adam's apple alone would cause him great embarrassment.

While he is worrying over the time it takes a woman to apply a little powder and lip-rouge, he overlooks the agonized hours he wiles away before the mirror scrapping little bristles off his face with a sharp edged steel. He's never seen a woman rubbing bear grease into her scalp to keep from getting bald, either.

Have you ever noticed a man in evening dress? How he had to hold a certain angle to prevent his stiff shirt bosom from becoming chesty? How he incessantly tugs at his cuffs when he thinks no one is looking? How the little points of his collar keep playing hide and seek in his neck? He certainly is an uncomfortable looking object compared to his wife, who wears just three yards of filmy lace over a couple of chiffon undergarments.

On the warmest days of summer men still go about in stuffy sausage-suits. The disciples of the Palm Beach suits are so few that most of us think they are sleep walkers in their pajamas.

It is woman who has thrown off the shackles of dress. Every year corsetieres are going out of business. The cloth manufacturer who used to sell seven yards of material to cover one woman, now sells three. Gown houses are failing because of the simplicity of styles. Give a woman three yards of material and she will lay it on the bed, fold it over, cut a slit for a neck, a curve for the sleeves run up a couple of side seams and appears in a new gown that same day.

The other night at the largest vaudeville house in New York a male comedian sprang a moth-eaten joke about a man hooking up his wife's back. The men in the audience all chuckled. But the women knew that the hook and eye business is in a state of bankruptcy while the men who are making elastic bands are riding around in Rolls Royces.

But as long as the theory that Eve came from Adam's rib is believed, women will have to stand the gaff.

Poe, Greatest American Poet and Writer, Says Naval Academy Authority

New York, Sept. 7—Edgar Allen Poe was neither drunkard nor wastrel, says Arthur B. Maurice, in the September Mentor Magazine. The truth about the great American poet, about whom such fierce controversy has raged, is that he drank little, but that little was too much for him.

"There is no doubt," writes Maurice, "that, at intervals, Poe resorted to stimulants, even to drugs. But to picture him as the habitual drunkard or opium eater is absurd. He was so constituted physically that a single glass of liquor drove him out of all self-possession for a day, if not for many days. But consider what he accomplished in a life that ended at forty. There are plenty of his manuscripts to be seen. Look at the handwriting—firm, legible, almost feminine in its delicacy. The hand of no opium sot or habitual wallower in spirits could have penned those."

Reviewing Poe's life, Maurice says that Poe was trailed by financial misfortune from the day he was driven from his foster-father's house. The child of strolling players, he had been taken into the family of John Allan, a Baltimore merchant, and educated in good schools, including the University of Virginia. He regarded himself as Allan's heir; but his benefactor married a second time, and Poe was cut off without a cent.

Poe's following forty years were years of adversity, punctuated with some happy moments. He lived in Philadelphia and New York. He wrote steadily, and was an editor at different times. In 1845, when he had taken New York, and the country at large, by storm with "The Raven," Poe was a social lion. Contemporary accounts of his modest and graceful conduct at this time are at odd variance with stories of his irascibility and bad temper.

Poe's Romance

Before coming to New York, Poe married Virginia Clemm, who was little more than twelve years old at the time of marriage. Her mother was Poe's most steadfast friend, and remained faithful even after the death of Virginia. In the Fordham cottage, Virginia died and there was talk of Poe marrying again. Mrs. Sarah Helen Whitman of Providence, also a poet, was about to marry the poet, when friends intervened—Horace Greeley among them—and the match was broken off. Mrs. Whitman wrote "Our Island of Dreams" as a consequence of their affair, and believed firmly that "Annabel Lee" was Poe's answer. Poe loved many women, says Maurice, but the women of his poems and tales are dream women, whom he worshipped rather than loved

A dozen men and several women have been Poe's historians. Some of them owe all of their reputation to association with Poe's name. Women have been his warmest friends, and men his greatest defamers. Poe was excluded from the first list of the Hall of Fame because of his alleged intemperance. Most of his historians have been concerned more with his personal habits than with his literature, which has been the source of constant wonderment to Europeans. His critics have found him untruthful, unkindly to his fellow men, lax in money matters and intemperate, but none has disposed of his extraordinary literary genius.

Poe as a Genius

This genius, says C. Alphonso Smith, head of the Department of English at the U. S. Naval Academy, lay not so much in Poe's ability to write horror tales and bewitching poetry, but in his discoveries of new literary forms. He was a ceaseless experimenter in sound combinations, line combinations, and stanza combinations. He coined the first new stanza in English literature since the time of Spenser. He formulated a code for short-story writing that has been followed in all lands.

"Poe," writes Professor Smith, "was not some strange, abnormal being, ill-starred and ineffective. Let us think of him as one who, suffering much, thought much and wrought much . . . and one who not only carried our common Americanism to the utmost bounds of civilization, but who enriched the concept and idea of Americanism by a constructive genius still unparalleled in our literature."

Have you ever noticed a man in evening dress? How he had to hold a certain angle to prevent his stiff shirt bosom from becoming chesty? How he incessantly tugs at his cuffs when he thinks no one is looking? How the little points of his collar keep playing hide and seek in his neck? He certainly is an uncomfortable looking object compared to his wife, who wears just three yards of filmy lace over a couple of chiffon undergarments.

On the warmest days of summer men still go about in stuffy sausage-suits. The disciples of the Palm Beach suits are so few that most of us think they are sleep walkers in their pajamas.

It is woman who has thrown off the shackles of dress. Every year corsetieres are going out of business. The cloth manufacturer who used to sell seven yards of material to cover one woman, now sells three. Gown houses are failing because of the simplicity of styles. Give a woman three yards of material and she will lay it on the bed, fold it over, cut a slit for a neck, a curve for the sleeves run up a couple of side seams and appears in a new gown that same day.

The other night at the largest vaudeville house in New York a male comedian sprang a moth-eaten joke about a man hooking up his wife's back. The men in the audience all chuckled. But the women knew that the hook and eye business is in a state of bankruptcy while the men who are making elastic bands are riding around in Rolls Royces.

But as long as the theory that Eve came from Adam's rib is believed, women will have to stand the gaff.

Poe, Greatest American Poet and Writer, Says Naval Academy Authority

New York, Sept. 7—Edgar Allen Poe was neither drunkard nor wastrel, says Arthur B. Maurice, in the September Mentor Magazine. The truth about the great American poet, about whom such fierce controversy has raged, is that he drank little, but that little was too much for him.

"There is no doubt," writes Maurice, "that, at intervals, Poe resorted to stimulants, even to drugs. But to picture him as the habitual drunkard or opium eater is absurd. He was so constituted physically that a single glass of liquor drove him out of all self-possession for a day, if not for many days. But consider what he accomplished in a life that ended at forty. There are plenty of his manuscripts to be seen. Look at the handwriting—firm, legible, almost feminine in its delicacy! The hand of no opium sot or habitual wallower in spirits could have penned those."

Reviewing Poe's life, Maurice says that Poe was trailed by financial misfortune from the day he was driven from his foster-father's house. The child of strolling players, he had been taken into the family of John Allan, a Baltimore merchant, and educated in good schools, including the University of Virginia. He regarded himself as Allan's heir; but his benefactor married a second time, and Poe was cut off without a cent.

Poe's following forty years were years of adversity, punctuated with some happy moments. He lived in Philadelphia and New York. He wrote steadily, and was an editor at different times. In 1845, when he had taken New York, and the country at large, by storm with "The Raven," Poe was a social lion. Contemporary accounts of his modest and graceful conduct at this time are at odd variance with stories of his irascibility and bad temper.

Poe's Romance

Before coming to New York, Poe married Virginia Clemm, who was little more than twelve years old at the time of marriage. Her mother was Poe's most steadfast friend, and remained faithful even after the death of Virginia. In the Fordham cottage, Virginia died and there was talk of Poe marrying again. Mrs. Sarah Helen Whitman of Providence, also a poet, was about to marry the poet, when friends intervened—Horace Greeley among them—and the match was broken off. Mrs. Whitman wrote "Our Island of Dreams" as a consequence of their affair, and believed firmly that "Annabel Lee" was Poe's answer. Poe loved many women, says Maurice, but the women of his poems and tales are dream women, whom he worshipped rather than loved

A dozen men and several women have been Poe's historians. Some of them owe all of their reputation to association with Poe's name. Women have been his warmest friends, and men his greatest defamers. Poe was excluded from the first list of the Hall of Fame because of his alleged intemperance. Most of his historians have been concerned more with his personal habits than with his literature, which has been the source of constant wonderment to Europeans. His critics have found him untruthful, unkindly to his fellow men, lax in money matters and intemperate, but none has disposed of his extraordinary literary genius.

Poe as a Genius

This genius, says C. Alphonso Smith, head of the Department of English at the U. S. Naval Academy, lay not so much in Poe's ability to write horror tales and bewitching poetry, but in his discoveries of new literary forms. He was a ceaseless experimenter in sound combinations, line combinations, and stanza combinations. He coined the first new stanza in English literature since the time of Spenser. He formulated a code for short-story writing that has been followed in all lands.

"Poe," writes Professor Smith, "was not some strange, abnormal being, ill-starred and ineffective. Let us think of him as one who, suffering much, thought much and wrought much . . . and one who not only carried our common Americanism to the utmost bounds of civilization, but who enriched the concept and idea of Americanism by a constructve genius still unparalleled in our literature."

SOONERS COURT TROUBLE TODAY

J. O. Ostby of Pequot, Charged With Shooting Partridges Out of Season, is Fined

ROY A. CARR SHOT A DUCK

Found Guilty and Fined—Loe Olds of Pequot Has Hearing in Pillager Court

Sooners are reaping trouble when they shoot partridges and ducks out of season. A vigilant game warden is right on the job.

Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle appeared before Judge J. H. Warner with J. O. Ostby of Pequot in custody, charged with shooting partridges out of season. Mr. Ostby pleaded guilty and was fined $20. He paid $10 of the fine and a stay of 30 days on condition of good behavior was given on the balance.

Mr. Cardle has been very active in his duties of late. Through his activities a number of arrests and convictions have been made. Roy A. Carr, of Woman lake was found guilty of shooting one loon and one duck and fined $20 with $4 additional for costs in Justice of the Peace Charles Tredwell's court in Hackensack.

Loe Olds of Pequot was haled into Judge Evensta's court at Pillager charged with shooting two partridges. He paid a $20 fine and $4 costs.

It would seem that there are a few who cannot wait until the season opens on September 16th, before starting their hunting activities, and Mr. Cardle expects to be kept very busy until that time in enforcing the law, and bringing every offender to justice.

Bentley P. Neff Traveled on Gull Lake Road Before it Was Recently Improved

The large mass of travel on the Gull lake road has necessitated improvement work to get it into pristine shape and it was while the road was at its worst that Bentley P. Neff, president of the Patrick Woolen Mills, Duluth, traveled on it.

He writes a Brainerd friend:

"The reason we did not return to Brainerd lies largely in the fact that the road from Brainerd to Pequot, the day we went over it, was something atrocious. Every time we thought of going back to Brainerd, the memory of that drive impressed us so forcibly that we deferred the trip, and kept deferring it until it was too late to make it. I am afraid that the condition of the road is detrimental to the best interests of your city, and I would suggest that every effort be made upon your board of commissioners to see that something is done to put it in better shape at an early date. We enjoyed our trip to Breezy Point very much."

It may be stated for Mr. Neff's benefit that the Gull lake road is being rapidly improved and the conditions he complained of are being removed. The Dispatch hopes he will make that visit to Brainerd.

SCHOOL BOARD SPECIAL MEETING

School Tax Levy for Coming Year to be Discussed in Open Forum on This Evening

CROWDED STATE OF SCHOOLS

Problem in High School as Well as Several Grade Schools Faces Board in Deliberations

There will be a special meeting of the school board this evening at the high school building to take care of the business of the regular meeting which would have been held last Monday had it not ben Labor Day.

The notices of this meeting state that members are asked to be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock, and for one hour until the formal meeting begins, there will be an open forum for the purpose of discussing the school tax levy for the coming year. It is hoped that the public will take advantage of this informal meeting to express their ideas on the subject and offer suggestions.

The formal meeting of the board at 8 o'clock will be a busy one, and a very important one. The first item for consideration will be the making of an estimate of the school tax levy for this year. Then will come the problem of the crowded condition of the city schools, especially of the high school.

The board is at a loss to know what to do about the normal training department. Twenty-four have enrolled for this work, and only fourteen can be accepted for one teacher. Accomodations cannot be had in the building for an extra normal teacher, and the board has requested that the state department send the high school inspector to assist in solving this problem. The report of Superintendent Cobb in another column gives an idea of the housing troubles in the different buildings this year.

With the opening of the schools a few days since, there will be a number of matters to be settled, which could not be foreseen at the last board meeting, and these will receive attention tonight.

Don't Carry Gun in Car

It is against the law to carry a loaded gun in an automobile or a gun that is not "knocked" down. As this is about the beginning of the hunting season the following clipping from the law is timely:

"No person while in a motor vehicle shall take game, nor discharge any firearm therefrom at any protected wild animal, nor carry a gun or other firearm, except a pistol or revolver, in a motor vehicle unless the same be unloaded in both barrels and magazine and taken apart or contained in a case."

FINE DISPLAY AT COUNTY AGENT

Gathered from Bert Sabin and Other Farms in Mission Country for Their Local Fair

LISTS OF EXHIBITS ARE GIVEN

Nuts, Strawberries, Raspberries, Plums, Apples, Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Grapes, Etc.

The county agent, E. G. Roth, has on display in his office in the court house a very fine exhibit of garden and orchard products raised in the vicinity of Mission, a great deal of the display coming from the Bert Sabin farm in that township.

The exhibit is inclosed in a glass show case, and is well worth making a special trip to see. It was gathered for the purpose of displaying at a small local fair which is held in the Mission country each year, just among the farmers in that vicinity. It will not be surprising if this little fair takes on considerable size in a few years and becomes one of the important annual events of the county.

The exhibit this year includes butternuts, black walnuts, luscious strawberries, raspberries and cranberries, (of the highbush variety).

Then there are wild and tame plums of various families, crab apples and large Duchess apples that make your teeth itch to sink into them.

The gardens are represented by great big red tomatoes and fine large cucumbers. Several varieties of tame grapes put the finishing touches to the display. They are fully matured and of the kind that make the Volstead Act hard to obey.

Altogether, the exhibit is a very creditable one and shows the progress being made in the orchard line in this territory. Other localities in the county should be encouraged along similiar lines, and stage community fairs, also.

WRONG PRICES WERE QUOTED TO DISPATCH

In publishing a coal survey of Brainerd some erros occurred regarding prices at Turcotte Brothers.

Soft coal there sells at $13.50 and not $12.50 a ton.

Dry jackpine wood is sold at $7 a cord and not at $8.

Their coal on hand includes a carload of small Pocahantas briquettes at $15 a ton; two carloads of large Pocahantas briquettes at $15 a ton; a half car of hard coal, egg size, at $17 a ton.

William V. Turcotte of the firm returned from Minneapolis yesterday and says the prospects look good for plenty of soft coal, but dubious for sufficient hard coal.

A Gold Mine

In addition to meteing out justice the municipal court is making an enviable record in its substantial returns to the city treasury. For the month of July the thrifty sum of $1,212 was reported. That looks good for the financial part of it.—Anoka Herald.

Note—Brainerd men arrested by traffic cops have helped build up the total.

Luxurious Coats

Again may women wear the beautiful wrappy coats made so luxuriously of the soft materials lined with soft silks and crepes.

Dame Fashion has planned it that the coat be more than a repellant of cold weather but a really beautiful article of dress which any woman may be proud to wear.

As usual, and as you would expect, we are showing a representative number of these beautiful garments. May we show you?

BUILD NOW--CONDITIONS FAVOR IT

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

It was gathered for the purpose of displaying at a small local fair which is held in the Mission country each year, just among the farmers in that vicinity. It will not be surprising if this little fair takes on considerable size in a few years and becomes one of the important annual events of the county.

The exhibit this year includes butternuts, black walnuts, luscious strawberries, raspberries and cranberries, (of the highbush variety).

Then there are wild and tame plums of various families, crab apples and large Duchess apples that make your teeth itch to sink into them.

The gardens are represented by great big red tomatoes and fine large cucumbers. Several varieties of tame grapes put the finishing touches to the display. They are fully matured and of the kind that make the Volstead Act hard to obey.

Altogether, the exhibit is a very creditable one and shows the progress being made in the orchard line in this territory. Other localities in the county should be encouraged along similiar lines, and stage community fairs, also.

WRONG PRICES WERE QUOTED TO DISPATCH

In publishing a coal survey of Brainerd some erros occurred regarding prices at Turcotte Brothers.

Soft coal there sells at $13.50 and not $12.50 a ton.

Dry jackpine wood is sold at $7 a cord and not at $8.

Their coal on hand includes a carload of small Pocahantas briquettes at $15 a ton; two carloads of large Pocahantas briquettes at $15 a ton; a half car of hard coal, egg size, at $17 a ton.

William V. Turcotte of the firm returned from Minneapolis yesterday and says the prospects look good for plenty of soft coal, but dubious for sufficient hard coal.

A Gold Mine

In addition to meteing out justice the municipal court is making an enviable record in its substantial returns to the city treasury. For the month of July the thrifty sum of $1,212 was reported. That looks good for the financial part of it.—Anoka Herald.

Note—Brainerd men arrested by traffic cops have helped build up the total.

Luxurious Coats

Again may women wear the beautiful wrappy coats made so luxuriously of the soft materials lined with soft silks and crepes.

Dame Fashion has planned it that the coat be more than a repellant of cold weather but a really beautiful article of dress which any woman may be proud to wear.

As usual, and as you would expect, we are showing a representative number of these beautiful garments. May we show you?

BUILD NOW--CONDITIONS FAVOR IT

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

HARD HITTING AND LIVELY BALL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 8.—All this heavy hitting and most of the sloppy fielding is being blamed on the lively ball. Infielders maintain that they have to stay back on the grass and pitchers claim they take their lives in their hands when they try to stop a drive off the bat.

One of the best pitchers in the game, however, is of the opinion that the lively ball is not altogether to blame for the terrific hitting of the present day.

"Babe Ruth more than anything else is responsible for the increase in long distance hitting," Urban Shocker, the great pitcher of the St. Louis Browns said.

"Ruth made every player aspire to be a home run hitter. They come to the plate, take a toe hold on the bat and swing. They connect just as many times as they used to, but their hits are all necessarily longer. Change in the pitching rules has been a factor because batters have more confidence when they step up to the plate."

Shocker is one of the few remaining spitballers and he has made it a most effective weapon. He does not believe, however, that the use of foreign substance on the ball should be necessary to make a great pitcher.

"There always will be a way of putting a hook on the ball without beating the rules," he says. "Look at Joe Bush. He has perfected a fork ball and it has made a new pitcher out of him. He lets the ball go out between his index and second finger and it acts just like a spitter. There always will be some similar ways of getting an effective delivery without using resin, emery, powder or licorice."

* * * * * * * * *

Grover Alexander, another of the game's greatest pitchers, is of the opinion that the lively ball is responsible for loose baseball. He has the theory that the pitcher is almost removed from the line of defense and that twenty-five per cent more territory is forced upon the shortstop and the second baseman. Where pitchers used to average five or six assists per game, he maintains that under the present conditions a pitcher seldom gets more than one or two.

* * * * * * * * *

Something, however, has worked wonders in increasing batting. When Casey Stengel jumps from a .248 to a .370 hitter, and when Chick Galloway rises from the .265 to the .330 class, it needs some explanation. There are other notable instances. Fonseca, of the Reds, used to bat .260 and now is hitting .361; Grimes, of the Cubs, went from .321 to .363; Barnhart, of the Pirates, jumped from .258 to .343; Tierney of the Pirates deserted the .298 class and graduated to .371. Other examples there are, too numerous to mention.

* * * * * * * * *

With all the abuse that is heaped upon it, there is much to make the lively ball popular. The fans, of course, like hitting as the increase in attendance shows. Also it is bringing up from lower classes fine fielding players who would never be in fast company if they weren't able to hit for some strange reason or other.

"Three Wise Fools"

"Three Wise Fools" which comes to the New Park Theatre tomorrow evening with Tom Wise in the stellar role under John Golden's management, is a brilliant sophisticated comedy of a whimsical nature, possessing a strong appeal. Briefly it is the story of three bachelors, past middle age, who as youths, met and became friends as suitors for the hand of one woman who elected to reject all three. The three men therefore determine to have nothing more to do with the feminine sex and consequently they have never married. Their life has become one of routine and they have settled into a fearful rut. Then it is that a beautiful girl of eighteen, daughter of their old sweetheart is given into their care. She creeps into the hearts of the bachelors, revolutionizes the household and makes of her guardians human beings. It is a beautiful play, well written, and with laughter predominating. The company comes here on its coast to coast tour and Mr. Wise is supported by a most excellent cast.

AMUSEMENTS

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford"

The adventures of that inimitable pair—J. Rufus Wallingford and "Blackie" Daw, as slick a pair of crooks as ever beat a board bill, will be disclosed in "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," a Paramount-Cosmopolitan production to be shown at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Saturday.

The picture is an adaptation of the famous stage success of the same name by George M. Cohan and is said to be a succession of hearty laughs from start to finish.

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" shows the good fortune that befell Wallingford and Daw in the little town of Battlesburg into which they had adventured to "clean up" the rich citizens. On their arrival in Battlesburg the two decide it will be easy picking. Their persuasive powers wins almost instant success and the wealthy men of the town freely invest in their wildcat schemes.

Wallingford and Daw prepare to depart with their loot, but they find themselves too much interested in two of the town's girls. They remain and the outcome of their scheming forms a surprising and highly entertaining comedy.

The role of Wallingford is assumed by Sam Hardy with consummate ability. Norman Kerry makes a smooth, smiling and suave partner for the chief crook, and Doris Kenyon is the pretty secretary who helps to win Wallingford over to honesty. The picture was directed by Frank Borzage, creator of "Humoresque."

It was reported that the eastern firm was prepared to pay an enormous salary if Mrs. Tiernan would consent to appear in a version of her tragedy.

"My humiliation is complete" Mrs. Tiernan said today. "My love for Harry Poulin has turned to hate. I am going through with this case".

GREEK CABINET IS TORN DOWN

(By United Press.)

Athens, Sept. 8—Defeat of the Greek forces in Asio Minor caused the downfall of the Greek cabinet here yesterday. Reports insist that Constantine may be driven from the throne by enemies using the Turkish victories as a lever to oust him.

American Marines at Smyrna

Constantinople, Sept. 8—American marines have landed at Smyrna and are taking steps to protect United States citizens as the Turkish nationalist army driving defeated Greeks before it nears this city, according to reports reaching here today.

Greek authorities are said to have informed the allies that they were unable to guarantee the safety of foreigners in Smyrna when the routed Greeks reached the port city.

American and allied detachments disembarked to guard the consulate. The victorious Turks, under Mustapha Kemal had pushed forward to within about twenty-five miles of Smyrna, according to the latest reports and had broken through the last weak defenses near the Agean sea.

The Greek army, routed, was retreating upon Smyrna accompanied by thousands of refugees. Danger of congestion with spread of disease and famine is feared in Smyrna.

New Cabinet Ordered

Athens, Sept. 8.—King Constantine today commanded Skouloudis to form a new cabinet to replace the ministry which fell yesterday as the result of the rout of the Greek army.

No Marines Landed

The department stated there was no foundation for reports from Constantinople that American marines had landed at Smyrna.

All American war vessels sent there are destroyers and have no marines on board.

CHARGED WITH HAVING LIQUOR IN POSSESSION

(By United Press)

United States Marshal Storen was prepared to arrest the Klan leader as soon as he appeared on charge of transporting and possessing liquor in violation of the Volstead law.

Dr. H. W. Evans of Dallas, Texas, secretary of the Klan, sounded the cry of defense when he charged the discovery of the whiskey was a "frame up."

He gave a bond of $2,000 for appearance in court and was released immediately. The bond was signed by a surety company.

GREEK CABINET IS TORN DOWN

(By United Press.)

Athens, Sept. 8—Defeat of the Greek forces in Asio Minor caused the downfall of the Greek cabinet here yesterday. Reports insist that Constantine may be driven from the throne by enemies using the Turkish victories as a lever to oust him.

American Marines at Smyrna

Constantinople, Sept. 8—American marines have landed at Smyrna and are taking steps to protect United States citizens as the Turkish nationalist army driving defeated Greeks before it nears this city, according to reports reaching here today.

Greek authorities are said to have informed the allies that they were unable to guarantee the safety of foreigners in Smyrna when the routed Greeks reached the port city.

American and allied detachments disembarked to guard the consulate. The victorious Turks, under Mustapha Kemal had pushed forward to within about twenty-five miles of Smyrna, according to the latest reports and had broken through the last weak defenses near the Agean sea.

The Greek army, routed, was retreating upon Smyrna accompanied by thousands of refugees. Danger of congestion with spread of disease and famine is feared in Smyrna.

New Cabinet Ordered

Athens, Sept. 8.—King Constantine today commanded Skouloudis to form a new cabinet to replace the ministry which fell yesterday as the result of the rout of the Greek army.

No Marines Landed

Washington, Sept. 8.—Arrival of the destroyer Parrott at Smyrna to protect American interests there was reported to the navy department today.

The department stated there was no foundation for reports from Constantinople that American marines had landed at Smyrna.

All American war vessels sent there are destroyers and have no marines on board.

"Three Wise Fools"

"Three Wise Fools" which comes to the New Park Theatre tomorrow evening with Tom Wise in the stellar role under John Golden's management, is a brilliant sophisticated comedy of a whimsical nature, possessing a strong appeal. Briefly it is the story of three bachelors, past middle age, who as youths, met and became friends as suitors for the hand of one woman who elected to reject all three. The three men therefore determine to have nothing more to do with the feminine sex and consequently they have never married. Their life has become one of routine and they have settled into a fearful rut. Then it is that a beautiful girl of eighteen, daughter of their old sweetheart is given into their care. She creeps into the hearts of the bachelors, revolutionizes the household and makes of her guardians human beings. It is a beautiful play, well written, and with laughter predominating. The company comes here on its coast to coast tour and Mr. Wise is supported by a most excellent cast.
